PRAYER OF THE MONTH (verses from a Remembrance Sunday hymn)

Almighty God

Bring to our troubled minds, uncertain and afraid, the quiet of a steadfast faith, calm of a call obeyed.

Bring justice to our land, that all may dwell secure, and finely build for days to come, foundations that endure.

Bring to our world of strife thy sovereign word of peace that war may haunt the world no more and desolation cease.

Amen

FROM THE RECTORY

Survivors

Dear friends,

As I have been half time, half salaried and semi-retired since January 2019, I have been able to get out into the Shropshire countryside more often. One of the Walks I enjoy includes part of a bridle way and ‘green road’. Half way along you unexpectedly come to a very well maintained War Memorial at a junction of paths. It has a gate and clipped hedge all round it, and is a memorial for the ‘Men of Claverley, although it is half a mile away from Claverley Church and village.

I suspect it was erected by the residents of nearby Chyknell Hall as there are two gravestones inside the hedged area, who I presume were family members. Another feature of the memorial is that it names not only the 36 ‘Men of Claverley’ who died but a further 200 who served in the Great War 1914 – 1918.

Given the big numbers of those who died in World War One, one imagines families were overjoyed when the war ended, the armistice signed on 11/11/18, and fathers and sons returned home.

Some of them were not well however; physical wounds, the effects of mustard gas, and shell shock were lasting effects. We would refer to “shell shock” nowadays as PTSD – post traumatic stress disorder, which came not only from being under attack from bombs and bullets, but also seeing comrades and school friends who had enlisted together being killed next to you.

One of the old Remembrance Sunday hymn no longer in modern hymn books was ‘O valiant hearts who to thy glory came’. It was written by Sir John Arkwright who spent some time in the war recruiting volunteers. It was never one of my favourite hymns, but I understand people’s attempts at the time to make some sense of the meaningless slaughter and suffering in gaining a yard of foreign soil.

They are the ones named and remembered on 11th November. But we should not forget those who served and also suffered, yet came back home, their lives changed for ever.

Time like an ever rolling stream bears all its sons away.....

CHURCH NEWS

Clocks go back one hour on Saturday/Sunday 31st October.

On 25th September when Beckbury Village Hall was formally opened, the church bells were rung. The vicar did not discourage the idea that this was to celebrate the occasion, but in fact it was coincidental that a group of six ringers were ringing a peal in memory of a former vicar Revd Richard Dorrington who died this year. He was vicar here 1985 – 1988 when it was just the three parishes of Badger, Beckbury and Ryton before the creation of the Six Parishes in 1989. He had been a keen bell ringer.

Peals were also rung at Sutton Maddock and at Beckbury on 23rd October in memory of Hazel Pooler of Kemberton.

Many of you will remember Diana Chantrey who passed away on 11th October at Shrewsbury Hospital. She lived at Beckbury Rectory from 1989 to 2008 when Revd David Chantrey was the rector of the Six Parishes, before they moved to Wrockwardine, then to Bridgnorth when David retired.

Times of local Remembrance Sunday Services on 14th November are in the Rota of Services.

UNDERSTANDING DEMENTIA

From Tommy Bingham, living with dementia: “Visit when you want to visit, not when you think you should visit. A successful visit will add value to both you and the person with dementia’s day. Find out the best time to visit your loved one”.

BECKBURY PLAYGROUND ASSOCIATION

The children of Beckbury need your help to bring play to Beckbury!
Please help us to build a new playground on the playing fields.

Our village is a wonderful place to live, but for our children who have been stuck inside for so many months, there is little outdoor entertainment that is vital for their development.

Donate today by visiting <https://www.justgiving.com/crowdfunding/beckburyplaygroundassociation> or call Jenni Wild on 07810753429 to arrange making a contribution.

Your donation will help us to raise the £35,000 needed to build a playground with swings, seesaws, slides and log trails.

Many thanks, Jenni Wild

BECKBURY VILLAGE HALL UPDATE NOVEMBER 2021

After several years of really hard work from many members of the community the refurbished village hall was officially opened on Saturday 25th September.

Cllr Richard Marshall declared the hall open and described the work done in bringing it to the superb facility that it now is, as a tremendous effort which demonstrated that community spirit is not dead.

Over the past 5 years funds of around £115,000 have been raised to completely refurbish the near derelict hall, with a new roof, floor, kitchen, toilets, electrics, insulation etc being installed.

‘After years of hard work and the generosity of many funders, Beckbury Village Hall is now a superb facility available for individuals, groups, one off celebrations, weddings, wakes, commercial and business bookings’ said Chair of Trustees, Ian Field after welcoming all to the opening.

About 70 parishioners and friends attended the opening ceremony where they were entertained by Eureka Jazz Band and browsed the exhibition of old photographs of the area.

The hall is now open for booking online at the hall’s newly launched website:
<https://beckburyvillagehall.co.uk>

It was lovely to see so many of you there, we hope you enjoyed it.

ATTENTION! - This is NOT A DRILL!

I was talking to an (intelligent!) friend at the weekend and he announced that given a following wind he would probably live for 150 years. Now technology and medicine are progressing at breakneck speed and theoretically this might happen but imagine our world in just 80 years' time; at present levels of expansion, consumption and extraction average temperatures on earth are set to rise by three to six degrees centigrade.

This will mean huge changes to our weather, to sea levels, to our wildlife. It will cause starvation, mass migration and disease. We will all be affected.

We all know that things have to change, but many of us think that the government or the UN or perhaps the BBC are dealing with it and we can carry on as normal.

But they aren't and we can't!

Instead, we need to look at all aspects of our lives and find ways to change that will reduce our footprint on this wonderful earth so that, yes, with a following wind, not only can we reach a great age, but our children and grandchildren can reach a decent age too and live full and less troubled lives.

So join us for a little get together to discover more about the problems and importantly the solutions to the climate crisis – solutions that we can build into our lives to create a liveable earth.

BECKBURY ALLOTMENTS ASSOCIATION

Autumn leaves are falling fast and with all this rain we've been having it's most important to keep on top of them in the garden and on the allotment. Clear paths for obvious slippery reasons and lawns too as they can cause damage to the sward. Collect leaves and keep in a wired frame to make leaf mould and use as a mulch.

Other jobs to be getting on with in November:

- With no time to rest there is just enough daylight to clear and tidy the allotment of any old crops. Don't just leave the remains of old crops to rot, they will harbour pests and disease. Wait for a clear sunny day and go for it. You'll feel shattered but a lot better for it.
- Sow a crop of your favourite round seeded hardy peas. They can be sown straight into the ground if weather conditions are favourable, or 3 in a pot to transplant later when the roots have reached the bottom of the pot.
- Now is a good time to plant new fruit trees and bushes. Soft fruit bushes can be moved now too.
- Stake Brussel sprouts and sprouting broccoli to prevent them from being blown over.
- Insulate your greenhouse. Horticulture fleece or plastic bubble wrap is excellent. Also your pots to protect the roots of your precious plants.
